

Heart: The City Beneath

How To Play

Roll two ten sided dice and keep the higher. Skills, domains and knacks all add to the roll when they apply to what the character is attempting to do.

Characters: Callings

A calling is the reason a character descends into the Heart. Each calling carries its own beats and its own zenith. The callings are the Heart, the Enlightenment and the Vermissian. A character has exactly one calling, and the Heretic is a class rather than a calling.

Characters: Classes

A class describes what a character does. Each class has its own abilities, resistances and equipment, and no two members of a party may share one. The classes are the Cleaver, the Deadwalker, the Deep Apiarist, the Heretic, the Hound, the Incarnadine, the Junk Mage, the Vermissian Knight and the Witch. There is no class called simply the Knight, and none called the Mage.

Rules in Detail

Stress accumulates as a character takes risks, and fallout arrives when the stress is high enough to matter.
